SPLENDID ART EXHIBIT IS COMING TO HIGH SCHOOL

Works of Great Masters Will Be Shown.—Picture Studies Accompany Pictures.

The picture exhibit, which will be shown in the home economics rooms of the high school on January 21, 22, and 23, will give the art lovers of Cheney an opportunity to study the works of the great masters, such as Raphaël, Rembrandt, Millet, St. Gaudens, and Michael Angelo. Among the masterpieces will be the Acropolis, Westminster Abby, The Gleaners, The Sistine Madonna; Sir Galahad, and Washington Crossing the Delaware.

The exhibit includes over 600 pictures, of all sizes. Picture studies accompany many of the pictures so one can spend many hours acquainting himself with the works of the most famous artists.

A fee of 25 cents will be charged to cover the expense of shipping. The hours that the exhibit is to be open will be announced later.

NEW SEMESTER BRINGS CHANGE IN SCHEDULE.

Several important changes will be made in the schedule for next semester. Classes that are continuous throughout the year will continue in their present arrangement. American History and Civics will be reversed, Business Law will complete the Economics course, Solid Geometry will be replaced by Advanced Algebra, and Commercial Arithmetic will take the place of Commercial Geography.

Two Receive Typing Awards

Typing certificates for the month of December were awarded to Pauline Bowman and Clarence Dykes. In addition, Pauline Bowman holds the typing championship for December, writing at the rate of 38 words a minute with only six errors. Her name will be placed on the Typist Honor Roll in the commercial department.

FOOTBALL BOYS AWARDED THEIR LETTERS AT BANQUET

Amid much gaiety, the football boys received their letters at the annual banquet given in their honor January 7.

The dining hall of the domestic science department was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The color scheme was carried out in the school colors, red and black. The centerpiece represented a miniature football field. The place cards were in the form of artistic programs decorated with small black helmets, and tied with red and black ribbon.

Toastmaster Gellermann presided, and those responding to the toasts were: Alfred Erickson, Nolan Brown, Mike Burke, Victor Wilson, Mr. Pierson, and Coach Smith.

Mike Burke was elected honorary captain for this year, and Victor Wilson was elected for the coming year.

Those receiving letters were: Roy Huse, Donald Leonard, Henry Sank-ey, Ernest Easton, Carroll Coe, Rex Sangor, Mike Burke, Marvin White, Vernon Sargent, Victor Wilson, Fred Reuter, Nolan Brown, and Alfred Erickson.

CHENEY HIGH SCHOOL WINS FIRST DEBATE

The Waverly-Cheney debate, held in the high school auditorium December 18, was won by Cheney. The Cheney team, made up of Mary Shaffer, Richard Hungate, and Velma Ryker, upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That the Philippines Should Be Granted Immediate Independence." The judges were Dr. R. E. Tiejie, Mr. R. F. Hawk, and Mr. J. Orin Oliphant.

Our next debate will be on January 23, with Hillyard, at Hillyard.

Santy Visits High School

On Friday, December 19, the Senior class gave two short plays before the assembly. The first, presented by several Senior girls, portrayed the ideal Christmas spirit. In the second sketch Roy Huse, as an old-fashioned school teacher, with his urchins, furnished much fun and laughter for the audience.

Nolan Brown, as "Sandy Cloz," the gentleman with the whiskers, satisfied the childish eagerness of the students with his liberal distribution of presents.

BASKETBALL TEAM INVADES IDAHO AND RETURNS VICTORIOUS

Wins from Championship Kellogg Team.—Wins Two Conference Games.

Leaving Cheney on the morning of January 1, the local boys invaded the neighboring state of Idaho and won from the Idaho state runners-up, winners of the Normal tournament, and north Idaho champions. Undefeated for four years in their section, the Kellogg high veterans were played off their feet and defeated, 10-8 in the fastest game ever witnessed in Kellogg. The inability of the Cheney boys to shoot baskets kept the score from being much larger. The guarding of both teams was exceptional. The score at the end of the first half was 6-4 in favor of Cheney. Neither team scored in the third period. In the fourth period West caged a long one, which was followed by another by Bacharach, and Cheney was safely in the lead, 10-6. The time nearly gone, both teams were fighting desperately when Hul caged the longest shot of the evening, making the final score 10-8. West of Cheney starred, counting six of Cheney's 10 points.

The following evening the Cheney boys defeated the Mullan high school, 21-8, in a slow game. The lineup in the first half was Bacharach and Erickson, forwards; Huse, center; McGee and Burke, guards. West and Coe got into action in the last period. The local boys did not get going until the last period, when they counted 11 points. Bacharach, Huse and Erickson garnered most of Cheney's points.

Saturday night, January 3, the Cheney boys met the fast Kellogg Eagles and were defeated, 30-1. The Eagles team, composed of collegiate and high school stars, were faster and larger, won from the smaller high school boys without great difficulty. The game was marred by roughness, Coe of Cheney being banished from the game on personals. Foltz and Peters, stars on the Idaho frosh lineup, were the

A New Year Hint

During the school year a high school student has numerous appointments with teachers and other students. These appointments are connected with work on various committees, music and play rehearsals, debate meetings, and athletics.

Next to one's reputation for truth telling ranks his reputation for keeping his appointments. The person who promises to be at a certain place at a certain time, in order to work with others, should be there at the appointed time. If he has a feeling that something else might keep him from meeting his appointment, he should not make it. And if subsequent to making the appointment something unforeseen enters, making it impossible for him to meet the engagement, he should immediately notify those concerned.

One of the characteristics of a successful person is his conscious purpose to meet appointments promptly. Let every student of the Cheney high school have this same conscious purpose.

Our Alumni

It is the alumni who have made the school what it is. They spend four years doing it; they take a lot with them when they go, but they leave me behind. They leave scarred desks, battered books, a few more gray hairs on the faculty, but besides these they leave the impression of their own enthusiastic and eager lives. They pass on from year to year that valuable thing, school spirit. They also bequeath, without thought, a set of standards which their heirs unconsciously accept. The spirits of the alumni haunt all the rendezvous of their successors. They are in the class rooms, watch over the football games, toil with the earnest student, and watch with glad eyes the budding of student government.

What the school's reputation is, they have made it and it is one of which we can be rightly proud. Their scholarship, deportment, loyalty, and high ideals have all been passed on to us.

For these reasons we should try to cooperate with our alumni and help to make them feel that Cheney high school is their school, which will always welcome them.

Vaudeville Set for February 13

On Friday night, February 13, a vaudeville program will be given in the high school auditorium for the benefit of the High School News. The various acts, including minstrels, short skits, and other novel forms of entertainment, are to be directed by several members of the faculty. The entire program will last about two hours. Everyone come and spend an enjoyable evening, and give your support to the High School News. The details as to the time, admission, etc., will be given out later.

DYNAMITE

We wonder why so many students went to sleep during their classes New Years Day.

If Santy couldn't get down the high school chimneys, he could easily have gotten through the cracks in the door at the back of the assembly hall.

We wonder what makes Miss Enders so happy nowadays.

While we were scratching about this month, we made several people confess their New Years resolutions. We found that Clark Wood has resolved to be a dashing young sheik. We'll help you, Clark!

Mr. Gundry has resolved to systematically file all his new ideas and check up on them at the end of the year.

Elizabeth Kingston has faithfully resolved to pick up her heels when she rambles about the assembly hall. We ardently wish you success, Lizzie.

Dick Hungate and E. W. Gilkey have resolved to maintain an absolute silence in Physics class, while Ruth Bruhl has sworn to talk incessantly.

Miss Norwood's Senior English class has sworn off all studying. (P. S. In case you don't know it, the class isn't a person).

Al Erickson and Roy Huse have solemnly promised Mr. Smith that they will learn how to sleep indestructibly in strange beds before they go on another trip.

Raphael Straughan says that he is going to keep awake in his classes so won't sit on any more tacks. "My," sighed Elmer, when asked about it, "It took a lot of tacks to make him come to that decision."

"I solemnly swear to keep Rudolph Kuster in his seat this year," declared Victor Wilson.

Robert Holmquist, who has been a victim of cross-word puzzles, has sworn off such things in hope of raising himself to his former standing.

BASKETBALL TEAM INVADES IDAHO; RETURNS VICTORIOUS

On December 19 the Cheney high boys defeated the Medical Lake high school five in the first conference game, 14-9. The game was fast and hard fought. The local boys found more opposition than was expected, and with but four minutes to play led only one point. Doc West was then substituted for McGee and he tucked the game safely away with two field goals. Bacharach was high point man with three field goals and one foul.

The high school quintet defeated the Spangle five Friday evening in their second conference game of the season by a 24-13 score. The game was played in the Normal gym. A. A. Eustis refereed.

The local boys seemed unable to get under way during the first half, but came back in the second period with some pretty passing that ended in many baskets. Captain Mike Burke and Coe guarded well, allowing but one basket, at close range. The Cheney offense of Huse, West and Bacharach looked good during the last half. Bacharach was high point man with 12. Burns starred for the losers, counting 11 points. The following men were included in the Cheney lineup: Fred West, Bacharach, Harold West, Fishback, forwards; Huse, center; Burke, Coe and McGee, guards.

Fifty-seven students belong to the Students' Association and have paid $2.25 each at the beginning of the year. Fifty per cent of this was applied to football expenses at the end of the football season.

Eighth Grade Goes Sleighing

The eighth grade had a sleighing party Friday night, January 2. Two sleighs were "chuck" full of happy, eager boys and girls chaperoned by Mr. Hodge. The party drove to Fish lake, about the adjacent county, and then back to the home of Robert Watson. Mrs. Watson, with the help of the amusement committee, had prepared a group of games which made the time pass all too quickly. Later in the evening the hungry crowd welcomed delicious sandwiches, marshmallows, and cocoa. After bidding their hostess a merry goodnight, they rode home to dream the party all over again.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL LETTERS ARE AWARDED

Tuesday afternoon, December 20, 1924, the letters for the boys on the Junior High football team and those who played in the McKinley-Cheney football game, were awarded. Mr. Gundry gave an interesting speech about the advantage of the boys of today and their sportsmanship, and then awarded the "J. H. S." letters. The three red letters are in an oval piece of black felt bordered in red. As Mr. Gundry said, "It certainly is a letter to keep out of the mud." Special letters given to those who played in the McKinley game were made of a diamond shaped piece of black felt with a red "J" on it. It is worn on the arm just above the elbow. Those awarded letters for their persistence and courage were: David Wendler, Howard Bruhl, Raymond Womach, Royal Womach, Chester Bardwell, Kirby Sooy, Roy Scott, Francis Paulson, Kismet Chambers, James Cutting, Max Grier, and Lawrence Rider, Junior High; Cecil Colyar, Senior High. Howard Bruhl and Kermit Chambers are the only J. H. S. boys to receive letters for the McKinley game.

Old Friends Visit C. H. S.

Mr. Clifton B. Worthen, formerly a faculty member, visited the school last week. He is now teaching at Republic.

R. S. Douglas, who had charge of the commercial department and athletics during the term of 1922 and 1923, visited here December 16. Mr. Douglas is now with the Weyerhaeuser Lumber company.

Mr. Page, a member of one of the first graduating classes of Cheney high school, visited the school this week. Mr. Page is now teaching at Pasco.

We Are Sorry

Due to error, Nina Blum was not given the full credit due her. She accompanied the first act of the operetta, "Bells of Beaujolais."

John Burke's and Virgil McGee's names were omitted from the staff sheet of the last edition.

We failed to mention that Miss Elward, faculty adviser of the junior class, was present at the junior party, which was reported in our last edition.

Too Bad the Others Were A. W. O. L.

More fun! Wondrous eats! That's what the Seniors had at the party Friday night after the Cheney-Spangle game. The Spangle boys were present for the best part of the revelry—the eats.

FARM SHOP CLASS MAKES GOOD PROGRESS

The farm shop class is advancing rapidly. They have already conquered the figuring of studding and sheating and have proceeded into concrete work.

The boys are now busy making forms. Two types of fence posts will be made: the triangular and the square. Six or eight different types of building blocks are planned. Experiments will be made in coloring and reinforcing concrete, and slump tests will be performed.

Flower pots are predominant in the choice of individual projects, but many of the students did not realize what difficulties awaited them in the cutting and assembling of the forms, or they probably would have chosen other projects.

As a class problem, Mr. Burns has selected the laying of a foundation for a house. At the same time the class will also get actual experience in cutting rafters. This project will be undertaken in the spring.

Sophomores Celebrate

The Sophomores, to celebrate the New Year, enjoyed themselves at a party held in the gymnasium on January 2. The party was set for 7:45 but for some unknown reason the revelers did not assemble until 8 o'clock. They then gave away to an evening of riotous fun, with "Keep Away" as the feature. After more than two hours of frolicking delicious refreshments were served.

English Class Presents Court Scene

Miss Enders' afternoon English class presented the court scene of "The Merchant of Venice" on January 8. It was given in the auditorium, during assembly period, and everyone enjoyed it.

SCHOOL SOCIAL SCHEDULE RECOMMENDED BY P.-T. A.

The following social schedule has been recommended by the Parent-Teacher Association of Cheney. Faculty and student committees are asked to cooperate with the association in complying with these regulations.

One general dance and one Junior-Senior dance may be given each year. Each high school class may have two parties each semester.

There shall be no dancing at parties.

Hours for parties shall be from 8 p. m. until 10 p. m., for dances 8 until 11 p. m.

Only high school students, their parents or guardians, and teachers shall attend school functions.

Alumni members are invited to the general dance.

The class giving a party shall not invite members of another class.

Class parties shall be given on Friday evenings.

Parties and dances shall be held in the high school gymnasium.

Music Delights Audience

On Tuesday, January 6, the assembly was delighted by a musical program given by Mrs. J. W. Hodge. "There's Love in My Heart" won great favor with the audience and had to be repeated. Mrs. Hawk accompanied Mrs. Hodge.
